Let's face it, folding in poker is pretty boring. You give up all potential to win the hand, and you'll never know for sure whether your opponent was bluffing or not. However, folding is just as essential in a winning 9 Texas Hold'em player's strategy as betting or raising. If you don't know when to fold, you'll bleed money at the 9 tables, making it close to impossible to be a winning player. If you feel like you need some help understanding 9 when to fold in poker, this article is for you.

What Does Fold Mean In Poker?

Let's start with the basics; what 9 does fold mean in poker? Folding in poker is the act of surrendering your cards and forfeiting all interest in 9 the pot. You no longer have to invest any money into the pot, but you lose your chance to win 9 it. You must wait until it is your turn to act before folding, as folding out of turn gives an 9 unfair informational advantage to the players who haven't yet acted.

When playing online, folding is as easy as clicking a button, 9 but when you play live, you need to make sure that you keep your cards face down when you toss 9 your cards into the muck. This is because any exposed cards will influence the action for players who are left 9 in the hand, so it's best to keep your cards on the table when you fold your hand.

How Often Should 9 You Fold In Poker?

Now that we know what folding in poker is, how often should you do it? Well, like 9 the answer to a lot of things in poker, it depends. If you fold too often, you allow your opponents 9 to exploit you by bluffing more frequently. However, if you call too often, your opponents can adjust their ranges to 9 bluff you less frequently, which means you'll lose a ton of chips to their value bets. It's a tricky balance 9 to pull off.

There are certain things that you should always consider before deciding whether or not you should fold; let's 9 take a closer look.

Bet Size – One of the first things to look at is the size of your opponent's 9 bet. A good rule of thumb is the bigger the bet, the more you should fold, as you need the 9 minimum defence frequency to be lower for larger bets. If you've got a drawing hand, another thing to think about 9 is whether you're getting the odds to call, considering how often you'll make your draw. If you are, then you 9 know you have a profitable call.

Opponent Type – Another thing to consider is the type of opponent you're playing against. If they're a maniac who bets at every single pot, you should call much more often than if you were playing a nit who only bet when they had it.

Opponent's Range – You should use a combination of the size of the bet and your opponent's general strategy, as well as other information you've gathered in the hand, to construct a range for your opponent. For example, if you notice that your opponent often folds to your raises, but now they're 3-betting you, your marginal hands, such as low pocket pairs, won't look very strong.

Hand Strength – After using all of the above information to construct your opponent's range, you need to look at your hand and decide how strong it is against the range of hands your opponent is betting. If you think your hand wins enough of the time against your opponent's range, given the price you're being laid, you should call; if not, you should fold.

When Should You Fold In Poker?

Knowing what to consider when folding is all well and good, but knowing when to fold is one step better. We might be here all day if we were to lay out every single scenario where you should fold, so instead, we've come up with a couple of common situations where you should be looking to find the fold button.

Preflop

Let's start with the first and arguably most important betting round; preflop.

In Early Position

When playing from an early position, your ranges should be the tightest at the table. At a 9-handed table, this means only playing around 10-15% of hands, and at a 6-handed table, you can bump it up a little bit to 15-20% of hands. In these positions, you have the whole table left to act behind you, and chances are that at least one player has a strong starting hand, so you need to make sure that your range is just as strong. If you want to be a winning player, make sure you fold most of your hands when playing from an early position.

When Being 3bet By A Nit

We've all seen the players at the table whose VPIP and PFR stats are in the single digits. They sit there waiting for a super premium hand and hope someone will be dumb enough to pay them off. Well, if you've identified these players, don't pay them off! When they 3-bet, it's always going to be a super premium hand. While calling to try and crack their aces is tempting, you're much better off folding and saving your money.

Postflop

Knowing when to fold postflop is more complicated, as there are a lot more variables to consider. However, there are certain situations that commonly occur where folding is the best option.

When You Get Raised On The River

It's well known amongst regulars that poker players don't bluff-raise the river anywhere near the frequencies they should. The river is the street where the pot is at its biggest, so finding a bluff raise in these scenarios can be incredibly daunting, especially for recreational players. This means that almost all players are heavily weighted towards value whenever they raise the river, so unless you have a super strong hand, just fold and save your money – they're not bluffing you.

When A Fish Gets Aggressive

The majority of recreational players are incredibly passive in their play; preferring to let other people do the betting for them. This means that when a recreational player starts betting aggressively, you should be concerned. Unless you're playing a maniac, most recreational players don't bluff anywhere near the correct frequencies, so it's very likely to be a value bet – and a strong one at that.

If your opponent has a history of passive play until now, you can fold your hand, confident that it's likely an absolute monster.

Tips For Knowing When To Fold In Poker

We've covered a lot about knowing when to fold and what to think about when making your decision, so here are some handy tips you can use when at the table to make your decision easier.

Look Beyond Your Own Hand – Always consider your opponent's range of hands before making your decision whether or not to fold. The stronger your opponent's range is, the more you should fold.

Work Out Your Pot Odds – If you have a drawing hand or a marginal hand against your opponent's range, look at the odds you're being given. If you think you make your hand/wins the pot enough of the time, considering the odds you're being laid, you should call.

How Does Your Opponent Play? – Knowing how your opponent usually plays is a key piece of information when deciding whether or not to fold. If your opponent is usually a very tight player, it's likely they have a very strong hand, so you should fold all but the strongest hands in your range. However, if your opponent is a frequent bluffer, you can afford to call more hands and fold less often.

Summary

As a wise man once said, you have to know when to hold'em and know when to fold'em. If you don't know when to fold in poker, you're going to find it hard to be a winning player in the long run. After reading this article, you should feel confident knowing what to consider when deciding whether or not to fold. However, if you're still having trouble, you can always reference this article for our handy tips to help you at the table!

ONU alerta: incursión militar de Israel en Rafah y el cierre de los puntos de entrada perjudican las operaciones de ayuda en la Franja de Gaza

La Organización de las Naciones Unidas ha advertido que la incursión militar de Israel en Rafah y el cierre de los puntos de entrada es un revés significativo para las operaciones de ayuda en la

Franja de Gaza, con implicaciones graves para su población.

No ha entrado ningún camión de ayuda en Gaza desde el domingo, afirmó la ONU el miércoles, ya que Israel envió tanques y tropas a Rafah y bloqueó los dos puntos de cruce del sur donde la mayor parte de la ayuda ha entrado, en Rafah en la frontera egipcia y cerca de Kerem Shalom en la frontera israelí.

Israel afirmó que el paso de Kerem Shalom se reabrió el miércoles, pero no indicó cuándo se volvería a abrir el paso de Rafah. La ONU disputó la afirmación de Israel.

Cierre de los puntos de cruce y combates en el área de Rafah

El enfrentamiento en el área de Rafah y el cierre de los puntos de cruce han establecido, al menos temporalmente, las condiciones de la situación de las primeras semanas de la guerra, cuando un bloqueo israelí y egipcio impidió que entrara algo en Gaza, produciendo graves escasez de alimentos, agua, combustible, medicamentos y otros suministros. Israel ha descrito la acción militar que comenzó el lunes como una incursión limitada en Rafah que tomó el control del punto de cruce fronterizo, no la ofensiva a gran escala que ha prometido llevar a cabo, a pesar de las advertencias de Estados Unidos y grupos de ayuda de que sería una catástrofe humanitaria.

Los funcionarios de la ONU afirmaron que las condiciones amenazan con interrumpir todas sus operaciones humanitarias en Gaza.

Miles de personas buscan refugio en Rafah

Hasta un millón de personas desplazadas de otras partes de Gaza, más de la mitad de ellas niños, han buscado refugio allí, viviendo en condiciones deplorables y dependiendo de los esfuerzos internacionales de ayuda. "Rafah es el epicentro de las operaciones humanitarias en Gaza", afirmó António Guterres, el secretario general de la ONU, el martes. "Atacar Rafah agravará nuestros esfuerzos para apoyar a las personas en situación de extrema necesidad humanitaria a medida que se acerca la hambruna".

Suministros y personal de ayuda limitados

Antes de que comenzara la guerra en octubre pasado, unos 500 camiones de ayuda y camiones comerciales adicionales al día transportaban suministros a Gaza, hogar de unos 2,3 millones de personas. Incluso después de que se reanudaran las entregas, eran una fracción del nivel anterior, ya que Israel mantuvo la mayoría de los pasos cerrados, exigió un estricto control de cada carga y prohibió algunos suministros.

Tras una fuerte presión internacional sobre Israel, incluida los Estados Unidos, el promedio aumentó a más de 200 camiones de ayuda humanitaria al día en la segunda mitad de abril y los primeros días de mayo, según la ONU, aún por debajo de lo necesario y de lo que el Administración de Biden había solicitado. No han entrado camiones comerciales en Gaza desde que comenzó la guerra en octubre.

Durante meses, la ONU y los grupos de ayuda también han luchado por ganar acceso y un paso seguro para su personal para trabajar en Gaza, a pesar de intensas negociaciones con Israel.

Ahora, los funcionarios de la ONU afirman que el progreso limitado que habían logrado está en peligro.
